National Clean Beaches Judge visits Port Kembla

The Australian Clean Beaches Awards Judge, Dr David Moy, will be visiting Port Kembla Beach today as part of his national judging tour for the Keep Australia Beautiful, Australian Clean Beaches Awards.

Port Kembla will now compete against the other state and territory finalists to become the Australian Clean Beaches Winner in 2010, following the success of Sydney's North Steyne beach in 2009. The winner will be announced at the national awards presentation being held at North Steyne on Thursday 25 March 2010.

During his visit, Dr David Moy will be evaluating projects and initiatives undertaken by the Wollongong City Council, local community groups and the surf club that are helping protect the local coastal environment. He will view facilities and signage along the beach and surrounding areas, including the salt-water Olympic swimming pool, which uses water from ocean for cleaning rather than fresh water, the local dune system, surf club and more.

According to the Australian Clean Beaches Judge, Dr David Moy, "My judging visits to the Clean Beaches national finalists have coincided with the recent release of the 'Climate Change Risks to Australia's Coasts' report by Minister Penny Wong.

"Keep Australia Beautiful welcomes the research and policy structure that this provides and stands ready to assist in this area, by promoting the work of the coastal and inland waterway communities that take part in the Australian Clean Beaches Awards, which form part of the Australian Sustainable Communities Awards.

"During my visits to our Clean Beaches finalists, I have observed many examples of local communities, councils and businesses working together to overcome environmental issues and it is their examples, combined with the report, which should be inspiration to other beach communities under threat. "I look forward to seeing how Port Kembla can provide further examples of excellence," he added.

Port Kembla Beach is now competing against other state finalists including Yeppoon Main Beach (QLD); South Port Noarlunga (SA); West Beach (Burnie TAS); Shady Beach (Yirrkala NT) and Balnarring Beach (Mornington Peninsula VIC).

The Australian Clean Beaches Awards are proudly sponsored by Mount Franklin, the Hungry Jack's 'Bag It & Bin It' program and Coastal Watch.
