

Lyndsey Rodrigues

After beginning her TV presenting career with MTV Australia in 2005 on the Australian version of TRL (Total Request Live), Lyndsey also lent her hosting skills to shows and events such as MTV Australia Video Music Awards, the ASTRA Awards (Australian Subscription Television and Radio Awards), Nickelodeon Kids Choice Awards, Pantene Young Woman of the Year Awards, MTV Snow Cave, MTV Beach House, MTV's travel show Full Tank and MTV News.

After relocating to New York City in 2007 to become the first Aussie to present TRL in America, Lindsey has interviewed the who's who in music, film & television, such as Foo Fighters, Chris Brown, Maroon 5, Fergie, Denzel Washington, Mariah Carey, Janet Jackson, Cameron Diaz, Jessica Alba, Snoop Dogg, Good Charlotte, Jennifer Aniston, Robert Pattison, 50 Cent, Robert Downey Jnr, The cast of Gossip Girl and Will Smith – just to name a few!

Further cementing Lyndsey's popularity, upon returning to Australia, Lyndsey was named host of Channel Nine's logie-award winning show "What's Good for You" as well as becoming the face of a global advertising campaign for Richard Branson's V Australia Airlines.

Now a Presenter, Producer and Writer for BigPond TV's music channel BPM (which you can catch online or on your T-Box) and the Movie Reporter for BigPond Movies, Lyndsey still spends her days interviewing some of the biggest names in the and hitting the red carpet to bring you all of the action from the hottest premieres. Lyndsey is also currently filling in as the Lotto presenter on Channel 9 Sydney.

As an ambassador for the RSPCA Lyndsey works tirelessly to ensure that animals of all kinds are rescued, nursed back to health and re-homed into a better life, so she is a perfect fit for helping raise awareness during Keep Australia Beautiful Week of the need to keep our waterways litter free to help protect marine mammals and other wildlife from harm.