

LITTER INDEX

Rubbishing Queensland

Queensland is one of the dirtiest states in Australia.

The National Litter Index, released by Keep Australia Beautiful, has found Queenslanders leave a yearly average 76 items of rubbish per square kilometre.

Only Tasmania recorded a bigger number at 86 items, but Tassie would fit 25 times into Queensland, meaning the sunshine state has a much larger rubbish problem.